Lindbergh Hurt as Plane Overturns, Fiancee Unhurt

Loss of Wheel in Take-off Causes Flier to Show Miss Morrow How to Leave Shock of Crash in Landing—Examination Discloses He Had Dislocated Shoulder.

Mexico City, Feb. 28 (AP).—The world that loves a lover was thrilled today by the superb airman and gallantry of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh. He exhibited those traits in saving his fiancée, Miss Anne Morrow, and himself from serious injury, or worse, yesterday when their three-hour picnic air jaunt ended in a crash.

Colonel Lindbergh had the pain of a wrenched shoulder and a badly damaged airplane to remind him of the narrowness of their escape. Miss Morrow fared better. Bulking large against the memory of fright and mild shock was the knowledge of her fiancé's having thought and acted first for her in an emergency which threatened their lives.

The full measure of this gallantry and skill in the air was revealed only as closely guarded secrets of the excursion into the clouds became known.

After leaving Valbuena Air Field yesterday with a small bag packed with sandwiches Colonel Lindbergh and Miss Morrow flew to a nearby spot for a picnic lunch. In the take-off for the return trip the airplane lost its right wheel, probably, it is now believed, because a mechanic greasing it had failed to refasten the cotter key which held it to the axle.

Flying back to Valbuena Field, Colonel Lindbergh's thoughts were on his predicament, and how best to emerge from it. Finally he reached over to Miss Morrow, seated at his side, and told her, above the roar of the motor, they probably would turn over when they landed.

Precautions to Prevent Injury. He showed her how to take the cushions from the plane's seats and place them around her body, with their heads about her head so that the shock of the crash would be lessened. Then, to guard against explosion of the gasoline when the plane turned over, he maneuvered back and forth over the field until all but the drops in the tank were exhausted.

He waved to Army mechanics and pointed to his damaged landing gear, and then shot out of space onto the land, lighting gracefully on one wheel and tail skid. It seemed for a moment the plane would come to rest without mishap, but the loose end of the axle struck the ground and it careened forward, turned over, first on its nose and then on its back.

Attendants Help Couple. Field attendants helped the aviator and Miss Morrow, the latter obviously badly frightened, through the windows to the ground. Lindbergh's first word, turned to her, was, "are you all right?"

She noticed he grasped his right shoulder, as if in pain, but when he protested he was not hurt she allowed him to escort her off the field to an embassy car, which took them to Mexico City. There at the Morrow home he remarked after a while the pain in his shoulder was growing more intense, and Mrs. Morrow insisted on calling a physician.

Go to Hospital for Operation. Dr. Sydney Unfelder discovered the shoulder was dislocated. An effort was made to administer an anesthetic at the Morrow home but when this failed the aviator was taken to the Lady Cowdry Hospital for the operation.

Within two hours he emerged; his right arm and shoulder bandaged heavily and shrouded in a gray overcoat, and insisted on driving an automobile with Miss Morrow and her sister Elizabeth to Valbuena Field to inspect his plane and the damage done to it. He used his left hand in driving.

The sight of the plane, propeller twisted, one wing smashed, and landing gear gone, brought a frown to his face. Then he smiled, gave some instructions looking to its repair, and brushing aside would-be questioners, went back to the embassy.

Spends Evening With Family. The evening he spent in the bosom of the Morrow family with Anne and friends of the Ambassador. Colonel Lindbergh expressed a desire to see Hal Mangum, owner of a ranch in Chihuahua where he once hunted. Mangum with his wife was registered at the Regis Hotel here and visited the aviator when he learned he was wanted.

What was learned of the accident did not come from Colonel Lindbergh or his fiancée. To reporters, friends and army officers alike after the crash he made only his spin-like remark, "I have nothing to say," when they asked him where he had been and where he had lost the wheel to his plane.

He did broaden his remarks a little as he left the field to go to the embassy. "This is not an accident. It's just a mishap," he said.

Fiancee Here Up Bravely. He is understood to have told his friends also that Anne bore up bravely throughout their ordeal and did not hamper him in any way in his maneuvering to bring the plane down.

Throughout he would not indicate where the two went for their picnic.

Lindbergh in 3 New Flights With Miss Morrow

Manages Borrowed Plane With One Hand and Remains Aloft Total of 30 Minutes—Miss Morrow Seems Nervous Before Entering Plane But Recovers Composure.

Mexico City, Feb. 28 (AP).—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his fiancée, Miss Anne Morrow, who yesterday went through the experience of an upset plane at Valbuena military field, took to the air again this morning at 10:27 a. m.

Lindbergh was flying a two-passenger biplane which he borrowed from the Mexican military establishment at Valbuena. Miss Morrow seemed slightly nervous just before she stepped into the plane, but she quickly recovered her composure and appeared perfectly calm as the plane left the ground.

They stayed aloft for 10 minutes, then landed but immediately took off again. It seemed evident that Lindbergh was subjecting himself and his fiancée to the army recipe of sending back into the air men who had experienced an accident.

The colonel made a second landing, but immediately took off again for the third time.

Manages Plane With One Hand. He was managing the plane with one hand, his right shoulder being firmly bound because of the dislocation which it suffered in yesterday's accident.

The noted pilot prepared for the flight by donning an aviation helmet, wearing a blue skirt and a red sport coat, donned a leather flying jacket which one of the Mexican air officers handed to her just before the plane took off. She also wore a helmet.

The plane circled steadily about the field, not going far from its vicinity at any time.

The plane landed safely after three short flights totaling 30 minutes. Miss Morrow seemed a trifle nervous as she entered the machine, but after the three short hops she was smiling as the colonel. Both were in gay spirits when they climbed out of the machine.

They went immediately to their nearby automobile and waved their hands to the small crowd at the field as they drove away.

Does Not Try Stunts. The colonel tried no stunts with his one-hand control. It was all straightaway flying and within sight of the field. Most of the time he merely circled over the airfield.

He hoped off, circled the field and then made a complete landing. After a short conversation with his fiancée, he repeated the maneuver and it was not until the third landing that he appeared satisfied.

Observers saw in the flight an application by Lindbergh of the practice inculcated in the training corps of the United States Army. Whenever a flier cracks up a machine there, he is sent back into the air immediately in order to overcome possible loss of confidence that may have resulted from his experience.

Claim Majority For Rockefeller. New York, Feb. 28 (AP).—Proxies representing more than 57 per cent of the stock of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana were claimed today by the committee headed by John D. Rockefeller, Jr. This percentage, it was announced represents 16,000 of the 58,000 stockholders.

The committee, which is seeking to prevent the re-election of Colonel Robert W. Stewart to the chairmanship of the company, charged that many of the 18,000 employee-stockholders desired to give their proxies to the Rockefeller faction but they were afraid of losing their jobs if they did so.

"We feel very strongly that every employee stockholder should enjoy the right that every other stockholder enjoys, to vote as he pleases," said the statement. "Otherwise the support of employee stockholders loses its significance."

REPORT STEAMER WRECKED WITH LOSS OF 80 LIVES. London, Feb. 28 (AP).—The Exchange Telegraph Company dispatches from Hongkong today said the Chinese steamer Shonan had been wrecked with the loss of 80 lives 28 miles above I-Chang on the Yangtze river.

Business Certificate Filed. Benjamin Levy, 424 Washington avenue, Kingston, has certified to the Ulster county clerk that he is conducting a business under the assumed business law in the name of United Tires Stores Co., at 356 Broadway.

Week for the aviator for his slight here to be with his fiancée. At the said it was believed repairs could be made without great difficulty, although these are likely to take several days.

Restrict Savings Bank Activities

Operations Should Be Restricted to Field for Which They Originally Were Designed, Says Legislative Committee in Manpowering Proposals to Broaden Banking Operations.

Albany, Feb. 28 (AP).—The joint legislative committee on laws relating to savings banks, in a report prepared for submission to the legislature today, recommends savings banks generally restrict their operations to the field for which they originally were designed. Discussing a list of eleven proposals for broadening of operations of the banks, submitted during the last year, the committee disapproved eight, asked that its time be extended to give further study to two and approved one.

Among the proposals receiving disapproval of the committee were use of checks by depositors and increasing the limit of individual deposits from $7,500 to $10,000. Other suggestions made to the committee and which were unfavorably reported would have allowed savings banks to act as executor, administrator or trustee for deceased depositors in cases involving less than $25,000; make small loans on terms similar to those of personal loan companies and brokers; to sell their depositors' shares or participations in mortgages in amounts of one hundred dollars or multiples thereof; to permit county-wide branch banks and to have power to insure titles and act as agent for fire insurance companies and negotiators of mortgages.

Treating the proposal to allow county-wide branch banks, the commission asked for extended time to study the matter, but classed it as a proposal "in line with the present-day tendency on the part of all classes of banking institutions to depart from the purposes for which they were designed."

The committee recommended an amendment to banking law requiring savings banks to publish in January each year a detailed list of its investments. On the question of interlocking directorates in savings banks the committee recommended a limitation of the number of directors who hold posts in certain commercial banks or mortgage companies.

The committee asked for time to study the matter of investment in savings banks in railroad bonds, noting that a huge amount of testimony was before it.

Slight Change In City's Dog Money. Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (Special).—The amount of money Kingston retains from its dog license fees would be virtually unchanged, under provisions of a new and comprehensive measure relating to licensing of dogs, introduced in the legislature by the Witter legislative committee in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture and Markets.

Last year Kingston's city clerk collected $3,544 from dog licenses and retained 51 per cent, or $1,821. Under the new proposal, Kingston and all other third class cities could retain but 50 per cent, second class cities 60 per cent and first class cities 70 per cent.

The present law reads that the percentage of dog license money retained by a city is to be transferred directly to the police pension fund. The Witter bill provides that the money would go to the city treasury first and then to the pension fund.

The various cities of the state showed a marked lack of uniformity in the amount of dog license fees they retain. Twenty-six cities have retained nothing, while in others the retention ranges from 10 per cent to 100 per cent.

Dog enumeration in cities would be continued by the police, under terms of the new proposal.

Railroads Take Express Business. Chicago, Feb. 28 (AP).—At midnight tonight, the American Railway Express Company becomes the property of the railroads and adopts the new name of the Railway Express Agency, Inc.

The new name will be virtually the only change growing from the sale of the express company to the railroads. The same offices and personnel will be maintained by the railroads and business will proceed as usual.

All the trunk line railroads, with the exception of the Southern Railway, are participating in the purchase of the express company. The Southern Railway has its own express company.

The sale of the express company involved a consideration of between $20,000,000 and $21,000,000. Negotiations for the sale were in progress for about a year.

Ford Collided With Hudson Home. Between 11 and 11:30 o'clock Wednesday evening a Ford coach in rounding the corner of North Front street and Clinton avenue collided with the Hudson Home, doing some damage. The number of the car was 5000. The occupants failed to stop. Further developments are expected if the accident is not reported or an adjustment made.

1,078 Miles of Cigarettes Smoked Here

How many cigarettes were smoked in Kingston during 1928? From the statistics just issued by the Internal Revenue Bureau, many interesting things can be figured out. For instance:

In the United States, during the last year, 195,915,165,014 cigarettes were smoked—at least they were bought, as the tax returns show. Now, the estimated population of the country is 120,013,000. Of that number 28,099 live here in Kingston. Dividing 120,013,000 by 28,099 gives 4,270. Then all one has to do to discover how many cigarettes have been smoked here in Kingston is to divide 105,915,165,014 by 4,270. The result is 24,304,485 were smoked in 1928 here in Kingston.

Perhaps Kingston went a little over its quota or a little under, but that is the number which should have been smoked here if it did its exact share in the cigarette consumption of the year.

Figuring the length of a cigarette at 2 1/2 inches, the distance covered by the cigarettes smoked in this city during 1928 would be 68,312,513 inches, or 1,078,589 yards or 1,078 miles—that is if the cigarettes had been laid end to end.

Study to Prevent Old Age Poverty. Gov. Roosevelt Urges Bill for Commission to Study Question—Touches on Two Methods Used in Other States and Foreign Countries.

Albany, Feb. 28 (AP).—Governor Roosevelt in a message to the Legislature today, asked immediate adoption of a bill to be introduced creating a commission to study the question of security against old age poverty and want.

An item to defray the expenses of such a commission was stricken from the appropriation bill recently submitted by the governor.

"I cannot believe," he said in his message, "that it was your intention summarily to dismiss in this manner all consideration of the pressing needs of our numerous aged poor."

"We can no longer be satisfied," he continued, "with the old method of putting them away in dismal institutions with the accompanying loss of self respect, personality and interest in life."

"This state abandoned some time ago the principle of institutional care for poor children, and adopted the method of helping them in their own homes. Similar provision should be made for old age."

Poverty in old age, he said, is usually a mere by-product of modern industrial life. "While the worker of today on the average may look forward to a longer life than did his grandfather, he must necessarily count on a shorter period of industrial availability. No greater tragedy exists in modern civilization than the aged, worn-out worker who after a life of ceaseless effort and useful productivity must look forward for his declining years to a poorhouse. A more modern social consciousness demands a more humane and efficient arrangement."

Two methods which other states and foreign countries have used in dealing with the problem were touched on in the message: The straight pension system and the plan under which workers insure themselves with the aid of the state against old age want.

While any plan of pensions or insurance to meet the problem would be expensive, he said, so is the present method of care in institutions. "I look forward hopefully to the day when our poorhouses will be used, if at all, only for the helpless incurables of the state who by virtue of physical or mental handicaps are unable to provide for themselves," he said.

REAL ESTATE PROMOTION MAY FOLLOW FACTORY STOCK SALE. In the meantime, while awaiting the beginning of construction of its factory, "which will be started in a short time, weather permitting," according to a circular just issued by N. A. Williams Co., Inc., of Albany, Finch Road Light Corporation securities are being offered for sale in Kingston. It is said that a real estate promotion is also to be launched, based largely on the assertion that the factory will, when built, increase real estate values in the vicinity.

BLOOD POISONING FROM RABBIT'S HIND LEG. Belleair, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP).—Hugh Haisell of Dallas, Texas, three times National Senior Golf Champion, was in a critical condition here today, suffering from poisoning contracted while handling a dead rabbit.

When Haisell was playing golf recently he came upon a dead rabbit and decided to keep one of its hind legs as a token of good luck. In severing the leg, the sharp point of the bone penetrated the flesh of his left hand. In two days poison spread throughout his body.

Propose Changes in Town Law

Joint Legislative Committee Seeks to Simplify Law—Reduction of Cost of Improvements and Local Government Sought.

Albany, Feb. 28 (AP).—Simplification of the town law in 1927, which was declared "an unwieldy, cumbersome aggregate containing 564 sections," was aimed at in the report of the joint committee to recodify the law, prepared for submission to the legislature today.

The recodified law, as drawn up, would contain 183 sections. Outstanding purposes which the proposed law seeks to accomplish included:

Reduction of the cost of special and general improvements; reduction of the cost of local government by the establishment of the budget system in towns of the first class and the improvement of the method of handling the finances of all towns, including the issuance and sale of municipal bonds.

Improvement of the inferior court system by the increase of jurisdiction of the justices of peace in civil matters from $200 to $500 and the separation of such officers in the first class towns from the town board.

Elimination, at least partially, of the frequent resort to the legislature for special and local statutes by segregating the towns most likely to need or desire such legislation into a separate group, namely towns of the first class. It is expected that general legislation affecting all towns in such group will be sought rather than legislation limited to isolated towns.

Other Results. Other results aimed at were: Elimination of the abuses of the fee system by abolishing the system entirely in the larger towns and limiting the amount received by an officer in the smaller towns.

More efficient administration of local government by providing a more suitable governing body in the larger towns.

Increase the powers of local government with particular reference to the adoption of ordinances and the licensing of occupations.

Amplifying the powers exercised by the town board.

In towns of the first class—all towns having 10,000 or more in population—a town board composed of the supervisor and four town councilmen would be established and the justices of the peace reduced from four to two.

Soviet-British Oil War Ended. British Again Are Given Access to Russian Oil Fields—May Foreshadow Political Understanding Between Britain and Soviet Russia.

Moscow, Feb. 28 (AP).—Announcement was made today that a contract had been signed ending the Soviet-British oil war by which the British again are given access to the Russian oil fields and providing for large purchases of Soviet oil by Sir Henry Deterding, managing director of the Royal Dutch Shell Companies.

L. G. Sokolov, head of the Soviet Oil Syndicate, in signing the contract, is felt to have scored a success for Soviet foreign business, as the bitter Soviet-British oil war has heretofore been regarded as one of the chief causes of economic and political conflicts between the two countries.

The contract, it is believed here, foreshadows a political understanding between England and Soviet Russia.

The contract is regarded as particularly important because of a clause providing compensation from the Royal Dutch losses resulting from nationalization in profits accruable from business in the future instead of flat compensation payments, which would be difficult under existing circumstances.

Steinburg Hurt In Auto Crash. Israel Steinburg, 40, of Kerhonkson, was cut about the head and lips Wednesday afternoon when the truck he was riding in collided with another truck on Hurley avenue in front of Excelsior Hose Company engine house. James M. Leabart of 10 Screamore street, driving a Stewarts truck, was backing out of the driveway at the engine house, and as he did so his truck was struck by Dodge truck driven by Aaron Steinburg of Kerhonkson. Both trucks were somewhat damaged, but the only man injured was Israel Steinburg, who was riding in the Dodge truck.

Miller Appointed Trustee. Walter J. Miller has been appointed trustee of the bankrupt estate of Stephen Griffing, who conducted the Griffing Music Store at 36 John street, in the former Kingston Opera House block.

Thirty Days for Assault. Found guilty of a charge of assault in the third degree in the town of Marlborough, Justice of the Peace John H. Rusk, Jr., committed James McAndrews of New Paltz, to serve thirty days in the Ulster county jail on Wednesday.

Arrest Two for Bad Checks Here

Edward S. Vallpou of the Plank Road and George W. Harris of Main Street Extension in Police Court—Other Cases Before Judge Shufeldt.

Edward S. Vallpou of the Plank Road was arrested Wednesday by Officer Fitzgerald on a warrant sworn out by Philip Luttrell, the lower Broadway tailor, who charged Vallpou with giving him a bad check for $15. According to the information Vallpou had purchased a suit and an overcoat of a combined value of $55, and had paid $15 on account by giving Luttrell a check for that amount. This morning in police court Judge Shufeldt adjourned the hearing until Monday morning.

George W. Harris of Main street was arrested Wednesday by Sergeant Phinney on a warrant sworn out by Samuel Feldman of 78 Crown street, charging Harris with petit larceny in giving him a bad check for $40. This morning Feldman informed Judge Shufeldt that Harris had made good the amount of the check and that he desired to withdraw the charge. The request was granted and Harris discharged.

William Gillette of Bloomfield, N. J., a seersucker grinder, and Joseph Ryan, who said he had no home, were picked up by the police Wednesday afternoon charged with disorderly conduct. Gillette was given a suspended sentence and Ryan was sentenced to fifteen days in the county jail.

Hoover Cabinet Is Completed. Washington, Feb. 28 (AP).—President-elect Hoover has completed his cabinet with the retention of James J. Davis as secretary of labor and the selection for agriculture and commerce of two men who are described as surprise appointments.

It is said by those close to the President-elect that the names of the remaining two men have not even been mentioned in any of the widespread speculation about the cabinet which has been going the rounds ever since election day. It was added that they were outstanding citizens.

James W. Good of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, will take over the secretaryship of war in the Hoover cabinet with a thorough knowledge of governmental business gleaned from 12 years' service in the House of Representatives.

Coming from Iowa to Congress in 1909 without having held any previous important public office, Good soon took his place among the leaders of the House and from 1919 to 1923 was the chairman of the important appropriations committee. He was the author of the bill that created the bureau of the budget and consolidated appropriations in the hands of the committee which he headed.

Mrs. Post Killed In Auto Accident. Wednesday, Mrs. Luther W. Post of Brooklyn, formerly of Kingston, was killed in an automobile accident near St. Augustine, Florida.

She had been touring the south for several weeks with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Luther C. Post of Flushing, L. I., and her three year-old granddaughter, Jeannette, and they were on their way home when the accident happened, the granddaughter being seriously injured. The full details of the accident have not yet been learned.

Mrs. Post left surviving her husband, Luther W. Post, a superintendent in the Prudential Insurance Company in Brooklyn; her daughter, Mrs. Vernon Bowman of Bedford Hills, Westchester county, N. Y.; her son, Luther C. Post of Flushing, L. I., and two sisters, Mrs. James W. Hubbard of Kingston, and Miss Bertha Rowe, a member of the faculty of Teachers College, Lockhaven, Pa.

The funeral will be held at A. Carr's funeral parlors and interment in the family plot in Wilkely Cemetery.

HOPE FOR IMPROVEMENT IN FOCH RESTS ON VITALITY. Paris, Feb. 28 (AP).—The condition of Marshal Foch, waging a desperate fight for life against disease, was said by his physicians this morning to be "stationary."

This information, with the notation of a slight drop in temperature, was conveyed in the official communique issued after their visit. Privately they said his illness still was most grave, and that on his remarkable vitality alone did there rest the slightest hope for improvement.

Business Certificate Filed. James C. Styles and Benjamin L. Styles of Cottekill have certified to the Ulster county clerk under the assumed name business law that they are conducting a business at Cottekill under the name and style, Styles Garage.

Charged With Stealing Chickens. Arthur Rice, colored, from East Kingston, was brought to the county jail this morning by Trooper Coons charged with stealing chickens. Rice will be arraigned later.

Engineer Sanford Made Last Trip At the Throttle

Veteran Engineer Rounded Out 45 Years of Service As He Made the Last Trip Today at Throttle of Wallkill Valley Railroad Locomotive.

As the Wallkill Valley railroad passenger train pulled into the Kingston station at 7:30 o'clock this morning, the engineer, Willard J. Sanford of 59 Green street, brought the train to a stop and as he alighted from the cab of his engine was greeted by his wife and a number of friends who had gathered at the station to welcome him on his last trip as an engineer on the railroad. Today Engineer Sanford completed forty-five years of service in the employ of the New York Central railroad.

Wednesday evening Engineer Sanford left Kingston at the throttle of the locomotive drawing the train, decorated with streamers and bunting to mark the fact that he was making his last round trip as an engineer in the service of the New York Central. This morning when the engine pulled into the Kingston station the streamers and bunting had been removed from the locomotive by Engineer Sanford, who believes more in performing his duty and has no desire to have a big time over his completing nearly half a century of efficient railroad work.

Mr. Sanford entered the employ of the New York Central railroad in 1884, and for the past two years had been serving as a locomotive engineer on the Wallkill Valley railroad. The other forty-three years of his service had been on the West Shore railroad, and during those years he had been at the throttle of many of the famous trains on the railroad.

He recently celebrated his seventieth birthday, but looks considerably younger. The delegation of women who met him at the station this morning was headed by his wife, The others in the group were Mrs. J. Henderson of Westhewaken, and Mrs. E. D. Edinger, Mrs. Marguerite Kellogg and Miss Alice Hunter of Green street.

Several railroad men also gathered at the train and extended him congratulations on rounding out forty-five years of efficient service with the railroad.

Coolidge Busy on Eve of Retirement. Washington, Feb. 28 (AP).—President Coolidge is finding that a nation's chief executive on the eve of retirement from public life is kept extremely busy in severing himself from the associations of the Washington government.

Again today the president found ahead of him a long list of callers, including officials from all branches of the government and other Washingtonians who were to bid him farewell. Besides his appointments with these friends, Mr. Coolidge also was faced with a number of last minute affairs concerning his administration to be decided before he retires from office.

Although the task of packing their belongings in the White House for removal to Northampton, Mass., has been progressing satisfactorily, Mrs. Coolidge, who personally has been supervising this work, still found a number of gifts and articles remaining for the White House servants to prepare for shipment.

Because of the heavy program which is confronting him before he leaves Washington on March 4, Mr. Coolidge has declined a proposal to deliver an address over a nationwide hookup on Sunday evening.

Dynamite for Quebec Premier. Quebec, Feb. 28 (AP).—A reward of $3,000 has been offered by the government of the province of Quebec for information leading to the conviction of the person or persons who placed the stick of dynamite in Premier Taschereau's office. The stick was found by the premier Tuesday night and the fuse was extinguished before it exploded.

Taschereau declared that he is convinced that no attempt was made on his life, but that somebody wanted to destroy his office and its contents.

The premier said nothing about the affair until questioned by friends last night.

CHARLES CHAPLIN WAS INTERFERED WITH. Los Angeles, Feb. 25 (AP).—Dr. Cecil Reynolds, brain specialist, attending Charles Chaplin in the capacity of physician and "friend," announced this morning that the noted film comedian's condition was unchanged.

Chaplin, Dr. Reynolds said, was suffering from intestinal influenza, following an attack of pneumonia poisoning Monday. The doctor, who left the Chaplin residence in Beverly Hills before midnight indicated that he had received a report from the night nurse attending the actor.

IMPURE FOODS NOW OFF MARKET

Adulteration Curbed by Laws of Nation and State, Say Officials.

Washington.—Flagrant adulteration in many food products was widely prevalent before the enactment of federal and state food control laws, said officials of the food, drug and insecticide administration of the United States Department of Agriculture when their attention was called to a reprint of a press report on the subject that had been originally published 20 years ago.

Instances of adulteration cited in the press report include the molding of chocolate and of clay into the form of coffee berries colored and flavored to represent coffee; white stone ground into a fine powder and used to adulterate soda, sugar and flour; "terra alba," or white earth, for use in confectionery and cream of tartar, confectionery coloring material containing lead, mercury, arsenic and copper; cayenne pepper adulterated with red lead; mustard with chromate of lead; curry powder with red lead; vinegar with sulphuric acid, arsenic and corrosive sublimate; milk adulterated with water and artificial milk made synthetically which did not contain one drop of the genuine article.

Analyses Confirm Adulteration. It cannot now be determined, say the officials, to what extent these and other forms of adulteration mentioned in the old account prevailed throughout the food industry 20 years ago, but official analyses made prior to and since the enactment of the food and drug act in 1906 confirm some, if not all, of the forms of adulteration reported as being prevalent in 1879.

Imitation coffee berries made synthetically without a trace of real coffee are among the official samples collected before the enactment of the food and drug act, but still retained by the food, drug and insecticide administration as an exhibit of what the cupidry of some few manufacturers would lead them to do when not restrained by the fear of the penalties imposed by food control laws. Artificially colored ground sawdust used to adulterate cayenne pepper is also among the exhibits illustrating the deplorable condition in the food trades in bygone days.

Fortunately for the consumers and the vast number of honest manufacturers who put out good products most of these forms of adulteration no longer are practiced, though some may occasionally occur in isolated instances, says the food officials. The marked improvement in the quality, wholesomeness and truthful labeling of food products that has been brought about in the meantime, they say, is due principally to the enactment and enforcement of federal and state pure food laws, and to the increasing realization on the part of manufacturers that it is good business to put out only sound, wholesome products truthfully labeled.

Decide to Be Good.

The exposure of adulteration prevalent 20 years ago, when the food law was passed, made sensational news stories. The spectacular contests between food officials and manufacturers who refused to clean up their factories to abandon profitable practices also resulted in widespread publicity. As these sensational features became less frequent, and the food industries increased their products and practices to comply with food control laws as enacted by court decisions and extensive scientific investigation, there has been a marked decrease in the news value of food control operations.

That constant vigilance by food officials is still necessary is evidenced by the fact that hundreds of seizures and prosecutions are made every year under the food and drug act. The adulteration found today affects the pocketbook more often than the health, consisting principally of the substitution of a cheap substance for some normal ingredient that costs more. Only occasionally in the public health is jeopardized by adulteration.

As the result of effective enforcement of federal and state food laws during the last 20 years, the food products sold on the market today are free from adulteration and misbranding less than ever before.

HIGH FALLS.

Glover Dunsen will give the second lecture of the course of lectures on "The History of the Christian Church." Illustrated by beautiful stereopticon pictures of the early church. ## One of the new sights of New York

The 35-story New York Central Building at Park Avenue and Forty-sixth Street is completed. As unique in its modern features as it is architecturally imposing, the glass structure is one of the sights of New York.

It will prove of exceptional interest to every visitor to the city. Beneath its mass of steel and stonework are two levels of New York Central train tracks. Two streams of city traffic pass directly through it.

Astride of Park Avenue, immediately north of the Grand Central Terminal, it is in the centre of the "city within a city"—the Grand Central Zone.

The New York Central Building lends new dignity and beauty to New York's imposing skyline. It will house the executive offices of a notable company of nationally known business firms.

Local Dry Agents Visit Port Jervis

Port Jervis received a visit from the federal agents operating out of the Kingston prohibition enforcement office on Wednesday when several places were raided and arrests made.

At the place located at 47 Railroad avenue the agents found a most complete assortment of alleged liquor in all manner of containers, including bottles to quarts and pints. Included in the seizure was various kinds of alleged whiskey, rum and beer. The proprietor of the place gave his name as Earl H. Hurston of 39 Owen street, Port Jervis, but the federal officials identified him as one Joel Houston who had formerly been convicted of the dry law. It is alleged that he is the same man who under the name of Houston was convicted of selling liquor at the Phillipsburg Hotel and which resulted in the hotel being padlocked for six months. It is also alleged that he is the same individual who conducted a place which was under observation at 29 Pike street in 1926 as well as the one who was held by U. S. Commissioner Crist at Middletown for selling liquor on January 20, 1926. He will be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Flannery at Beacon on March 6 at 10 o'clock.

Visiting the premises at 12 Pike street, Port Jervis, the agents seized a quantity of home brew beer and colored spirits and arrested Anthony Probi who will also be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Flannery at Beacon.

At 42 Railroad avenue, Port Jervis, the agents found a quantity of beer which was suspected as being of the high power variety. Frank Martino was arrested and will be given a hearing before Commissioner Flannery on March 8.

Charge Plot to Kill Cuban President

Havana, Feb. 28 (AP).—Secretary of War has issued three warrants for the arrest of prominent Cubans were issued by Superior Judge Manuel Quesada today in continuation of efforts at suppression of a plot against the life of President Machado and the peace of Cuba.

The action was preceded by a statement by Colonel Alfonso Fors, Cuban Secret Service Chief, saying: "I can now say that an open state of rebellion and utter disregard for legally constituted authority exist throughout the nation."

In a later statement by Colonel Fors to the Associated Press said the situation was well in hand and that there were no fears of violence.

Revelation of the plot came late yesterday with the filing of charges against ten prominent Cubans, alleging a plot to assassinate President Machado and create such a chaotic condition in Cuba that the United States would be forced to intervene. It was reported police had in their possession a document ostensibly addressed to President-elect Hoover asking for intervention by the United States on the ground that "Cuba is unable to govern herself."

Banton Shakes Up Homicide Bureau

New York, Feb. 28 (AP).—Joab A. Banton, district attorney of New York county, has shaken up the staff of his homicide bureau so thoroughly that only one of his several assistants assigned to duty there will be left on the job tomorrow.

No reason for the changes was announced by Banton this morning, and whether the bureau's handling of the unsolved Rothstein murder mystery had any connection with them could not be learned. There were reports that another homicide case had been so handled as to make shifts in personnel advisable.

The only assistant on the job is P. Francis Marro, one of the others resigned and four were transferred, although two of the latter get new posts in homicide court which are regarded as promotions.

On information received from the U. S. Army officials at Plattsburg barracks, State Troopers left Wednesday for that city where they will pick up a man who it is thought may be connected with the assault upon a young girl at Highland on August 16 last. The man has been attached to the army outfit now stationed at Plattsburg. The assault was committed at a carnival outing which was being held near the village of Highland on the New Paltz road. Apprehension of the man may clear up the mystery which surrounded the assault.

Condemn Practice In Bankruptcy

New York, Feb. 28 (AP).—A grand jury presentment charging serious indiscretions but finding no acceptable evidence of judicial corruption in bankruptcy cases in this district was in the hands of the Federal court today.

The investigation of bankruptcy practice in the Southern district of New York was widened to include evidence in connection with charges against Judge Francis A. Winslow, after a resolution in which they were embodied had been introduced in the House by Representative La Guardia, Republican.

The presentment set forth that since a Congressional investigation of the La Guardia charges was assured the grand jury did not wish to hamper such an inquiry or give any witnesses valid reason to decline to testify before the subcommittee of the house judiciary committee.

Severe arraignment of certain attorneys practicing in bankruptcy court was contained in the presentment with the suggestion that a public investigation before a district judge be held to "root out the abuses" and inflict proper disciplinary measures upon attorneys guilty of "serious malpractices." The grand jury said it had found the "existence of a system of bankruptcy chicanery" in the study of 5,000 bankruptcy cases.

A FAMOUS SAYING.

In one of his most earnest utterances President Cleveland declared that "public office is a public trust," and since then the saying has been widely associated with his name.
 But, according to a recent newspaper correspondence, its real author was William C. Hudson, a staff writer for the Brooklyn Eagle who employed it as a title for a campaign document of his own on Cleveland.
 This was a rash assertion, evidently made without consulting any of the compilers of "familiar quotations."
 From Bartlett's we learn that the phrase, sometimes varying slightly in form, has a long pedigree reaching back into the distant past. Mayor Abram S. Hewitt is said to have employed it in the Cleveland form in 1883, and Charles Sumner is quoted as saying in 1872 that "the phrase
 'public office is a public trust,' has of late become common property."
 And this is but a beginning. In 1835 Calhoun said in a public speech that "the very essence of a free government consists in considering offices as public trusts." Some ten years before that Macaulay referred to "the English doctrine that all power is a trust for the public good."
 Earlier still, in 1807, Thomas Jefferson said that "when a man assumes a public trust he should consider himself as public property."
 In 1788 Fox told the British parliament that "all political power is a trust." In 1790 Edmund Burke said that "a political executive magistracy is a great trust." And away back in the Seventeenth century Matthew Henry said: "It is not fit that the public trusts should be lodged in the hands of any till they are first proved."
 That is as far back as the pedigree has been traced, but it is altogether probable that essentially the same idea found expression among political reformers in old Rome and Greece, and possibly even in ancient Egypt and Babylon. There is little that is entirely new or altogether original.

THAT "EINSTEIN GUY."

The "power of the press" has its limits, even in the case of so prominent a representative of the journalistic profession as the New York Times. That newspaper has been asked, and apparently expected, to explain the Einstein theory in "a few sentences." Its correspondent, after puzzling over what Prof. Einstein himself has written, felt the need of simple, direct statement that would clear up the obscurity.
 So he turned to the Times for enlightenment and requested that trusted newspaper to state "the gist of the whole theory in half a dozen sentences—and the effect on modern life."

This was a large order, so large that, perhaps even one of the "twelve" noble intellects that have grasped Einstein might seek means to sidestep an attempt to answer within the limits set. As for the New York Times, it felt forced to beg to be excused and make reluctant confession of inability as follows: "While the compliment is deeply appreciated, it is necessary to state with becoming modesty that the editorial staff of the Times does not, unfortunately, include any of the twelve men in all the world who alone understand Einstein. A larger number, to be sure, profess to do so; but in their confidential moments they will confess to sympathy with the hobo in a public park turning with a newspaper in his hand to a neighbor and admitting cheerfully,
 'I don't get this Einstein guy at all.'"

Here's a piece of news indicative of the strides forward in commercial aviation: "A dozen passengers in the cabin of a fast airplane from Minneapolis to Chicago drew the curtains, took the soft-cushioned chairs and gave themselves up to the joys of an exciting ride." They must have been veteran air travelers, for otherwise how could a mere have noticed them from the macificent spectacle of the world below

 them?

The Habermasters, Hapburgs, Romanows and Wittelmans are reported to be planning a convention and a "holy league" in the near interests. Doubtless an association of despised and exiled royalties would be mutually comforting, but from the view of disinterested observers they would do well to remain where they are, for the dream of things that were.

It seems that Christopher Columbus claimed to hear the singing of an impossible nightingale in Florida.
 At any rate the following is said to be a quotation from his journal
 notes on land there: "The plants on the ground are high and flowering. The air is warm as that of April in Castile, and the nightingale sings more melodiously than words can describe." A mockingbird perhaps, or possibly a brown thrasher.

Mr. Hoover is reported as being concerned for the personal safety of Col. Lindbergh and as saying that he should "give up flying and direct his activities toward development of aviation from the ground." But how could the "Lone Eagle" endure an existence limited to the ground?
 It is almost equivalent to asking a bird to become an earthworm.

ONE SIDED SICK HEADACHES.

That mean form of headache that begins over one eye and one side of the head, usually accompanied by irritability, pain in the eye, heaviness, abdominal pain, nausea and vomiting, is called migraine.

Although no definite cause has been found for it, it is thought generally that the liver, the failure of the liver to do the work the patient requires of it, is really the cause of the trouble.

Many of these patients have studied this matter and find that one of their parents, likely also a grand parent, was also subject to this mean form of headache.

They have also found that if they have been under some emotional strain, have worked hard physically or mentally, that they will have an attack.

Others can trace their attacks to overindulgence in certain foods such as red meats, fish, goose, duck and turkey.

In the beginning of the attack if they take a strong purgative they find that the attack will pass away in a short time, whereas any delay in taking the purgative and the attack lasts for days.

I believe you will agree then that when the liver fails to take care of certain foods, owing to the nature of the foods themselves or to the nervous highstrung, or overworked condition of the patient, that these products, not being properly served the purposes of the blood, are simply like so much foreign matter or poisons in the system.

An individual with migraine then is practically in a poisoned or semi-poisoned condition.

Just as other poisons will cause changes in the brain so then does the poison in these individuals, and the liver is to blame because it fails to separate them out from the blood.

Dr. J. S. Diamond, studying a considerable number of these cases, tells us that much benefit was derived by withdrawing all forms of meat, placing the patient on a strict milk and vegetable diet, overcoming the constipation which is always present, and the occasional use of bile salts.

Undue physical and mental strain
 must be avoided.

Following these simple and practical suggestions should help the individuals to avoid these one sided sick headaches.

Daily Thought

Our business in life is not to get ahead of other people, but to get ahead of ourselves. To break our own record, to outstrip yesterday by today, to beat our trials more beautifully than we ever dreamed we could,
 to whip the tempter inside and out as we never whipped him before, to give as we never have given, to do our work with more force and a finer faith than ever—this is the true idea
 —to get ahead of ourselves.—Matthie
 D. McElroy.

All Life is Struggle

Every man who enters manhood in life chooses his own way. He chooses the way of the sword, the way of the pen, the way of the law, the way of the church, the way of the world.
 But he must choose. He must choose his own way. He must choose his own path. He must choose his own destiny. He must choose his own fate. He must choose his own life.—G.K.

"My Thirty Years
at Sea"

By CAPTAIN GEORGE FRIED

A picture of the brig, trial by court, dishonor, all forced Fried at the time of his brown in discipline. It everlastingly curbed his temper; he learned obedience, whatever the hardship.

CHAPTER IV

Learning to toe the mark was never a difficult experience for me. I learned the rudiments of discipline in the Army, but I had more of a thorough training when I enlisted in the Navy. Sometimes it is rather difficult to receive orders constantly and obey
 them.

There is a routine the Army and Navy have outlined for their men.
 This routine is, of course, interrupted by special orders and commands.
 They must be carried out, and it is not unusual for a superior officer to issue orders that are annoying to the recipient. Early in my career I and on my way forward to the bridge again she dipped three times. Of course I failed to see it. For the third time I had to listen to the officer reprimand me for my neglect of duty.

This was about all I could stand, and I was angry. I admit, at that time, I had a temper. I felt that I was doing everything possible in attendance to my duty and that there was no inattention or neglect on my part. I explained to the officer that I was doing my best. He said I was not. I took exception and spoke harshly, perhaps. He reported the incident to the captain, and I was summoned before the mast. I was really frightened then. I could picture myself in the brig, dishonored.

Court was held. The captain, executive officer, navigating officer and chaplain listened to the officer's story first. In addition to charging me with neglect of duty, he said I was disrespectful. I explained that I had a temper and admitted that I had lost it because I believed that the officer was trying to "ride me." There was a short conference by the court and

"My temper rose, then forever was curbed. I learned my lesson..."

learned to follow all commands and to question none.

Nevertheless, I cannot say that I have never been disciplined for an infraction of regulations, and I recall my only experience when I was in Gibraltar. At that time I was aboard the Hartford. We got into port early, and my first duty was to reef off the signal halyard on the end of the topsail yard arm. My rank was that of a quartermaster.

While I was aloft an English launch happened to come alongside. I was busy and naturally I did not see the approaching launch. When I returned to the deck, the officer on duty reprimanded me for not reporting the arrival of this boat. I explained to him that I did not see it, but I was sent back to the bridge on starboard watch.

I was rather annoyed at being admonished for this error, which I hardly considered my own, and was pacing back and forth nervously when I saw another English launch coming in the direction of the Hartford with a torpedo in tow. Wishing to be alert, I immediately made the report to the officer and to my surprise was again
 "bawled out."

The officer stated that I should have known better than to think that this launch with a torpedo was coming alongside an American ship. He was right. I felt rather disappointed, and then there began to feel that if I were to continue in my rank I must improve in some way.

While I was debating whether I lacked ability to go ahead a German passenger ship passed and dipped her colors. I ran aft to lower our colors.

John C. Toole Dead of Influenza

New York, Feb. 25 (AP)—John Conway Toole, for the last eight years president of the International Baseball League, died at his home here today after a ten days' illness with influenza.

The sudden passing of the veteran Toole who has long been a commanding figure in baseball came with little warning. Despite his advancing years he appeared in sturdy health upon the occasion of the annual schedule meeting of his circuit here February 15, at which he presided.

Shortly thereafter he was stricken with influenza, but it was reported only three days ago that he was considerably better and appeared on the road to recovery. His death occurred at 10:30 this morning at his residence at 25 Fifth avenue.

Food Sale Saturday.

The ladies in charge hope to make this a very successful sale as the proceeds are to go for the building fund of Court Santa Maria.

Upper Room Mission Service.
The regular Friday evening service will be held at Bedford's Upper Room Mission, 552 Broadway, near the West Shore, at 7:30. These are all interesting meetings. Everyone welcome.

MR. COMINGS IS COMING TO TALK TO AUTO MEN

The Kingston Automotive Dealers and their service managers will meet Friday evening, March 1, at the Stuyvesant Hotel to hear A. V. Comings, manager of the Trade Relations Division of Automobile Trade Journal and Motor Age, who will tell them "Some Sure Ways to Dealer Profits."

Mr. Comings is one of the leading authorities of the industry on subjects pertaining to the car dealers, and his talk will furnish local car dealers many ideas which will not only help them to better profits, but will provide better, more satisfactory service to the car owner in all his contracts with dealers.

Five years as field editor of the Chilton Class Journal, automotive publications and five years as editor of Automobile Trade Journal, have given Mr. Comings an insight into what is best in automobile merchandising throughout the United States. Every state in the Union has been visited by Mr. Comings in his editorial travels, and he is much sought after as a speaker on trade topics wherever dealers gather.

Differ Over Beginning of First Civilization

There are two independent theories as to the origin of civilization. The older theory is that the human mind is such that, given an opportunity, it will produce a civilization. But this does not account for the similarity of customs found in all civilizations, and so there exists the alternate theory that civilization started from a definite center, from which it spread.

In his book, "In the Beginning: The Origin of Civilization," Elliot Smith, the chief exponent of the latter theory sets this center in upper Egypt, on the banks of the Nile, and the time about 4000 B. C. The determining cause he believes to have been an abundant crop of wild barley, which caused man to give up his roaming life for a favorable climate and an assured food supply. Lean periods led to the invention of methods of storage, and this taught the greatest thing ever discovered by man—the function of the seed in plant growth. Having reached this stage, the further growth of civilization is not difficult to visualize.

No Perpetual Motion
Perpetual motion has never been successfully demonstrated. The views of the Patent office are in accord with those of the scientists who have investigated the subject, and are to the effect that mechanical perpetual motion is a physical impossibility. These views can be rebutted only by the exhibition of a working model. Many persons have filed applications for patents on perpetual motion, but such applications have been rejected as inoperative and opposed to well-known physical laws, and in no instance has the requirement of the Patent office for a working model ever been complied with.

It is a hard and nice subject for a man to speak of himself; it grates his own heart, to say anything of disparagement, and the reader's ears to hear anything of praise from him.—Cowley.

MANY QUIRKS IN MARRIAGE LAWS

Survey Shows But 24 States Require Ceremony—Age Limits Vary.

New York.—Forty-eight states and the District of Columbia have laws regulating marriage. The wide divergences among these laws, their excellencies and deficiencies and modern trends in state control over marriage are shown in an exhaustive study made by Geoffrey May of the Russell Sage Foundation's staff.

This statement calls attention, first of all, to the fact that, while all states specify how marriage ceremonies shall be performed, only twenty-four require a ceremony in order to make a marriage valid. In the remaining states a mere private agreement between a man and woman, without witness or recorded promise, constitutes a marriage if no "impediment" exists. Among the states in which these common-law marriages are still valid are such large and populous states as New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Low Age Limits.

For age requirements marked variations were discovered. If their parents consent girls of twelve may still be legally married in the states of Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Mississippi, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Tennessee and Virginia. The remaining states have a higher minimum age, usually fourteen or sixteen, though in twelve states where the minimum age is sixteen or higher certain specified judges may authorize a marriage if circumstances make such action desirable.

A minimum age of eighteen obtains in New Hampshire, two years higher than in any other state in the country. The consent of parent or guardian is required in most states whenever either party to the marriage is a legal minor.

A general tendency to raise the minimum marriageable age is indicated by recent legislation for this purpose in California, Kentucky, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Mexico, New York, Pennsylvania and Vermont.

The statement points out that hasty marriages with their attendant evils are still possible in most of the states. The decision to marry, issuance of a license, and the actual ceremony may all take place within a few hours. In twelve states, however, a period (usually five days) must elapse after the license is applied for before the ceremony may take place, and in nine of these the license is not issued until this period has elapsed.

Such a law, which receives high praise in the statement, is now in force in all the New England states and in California, Delaware, Georgia, Michigan, New Jersey and Wisconsin. This is one of the most active of present tendencies in marriage legislation. Four of the states mentioned have only recently added this provision to their marriage laws, and in 1927, the latest important legislative year, bills for advance notice were introduced into fourteen additional states.

Licenses Easy to Get.

In many states candidates, if qualified, may obtain their marriage license from any issuer to whom they choose to apply. This is held to be a very unfortunate provision. But in Maine, Massachusetts and Rhode Island licenses must be obtained in the city or town in the state where the prospective bride and bridegroom reside. If they live in two different places they must obtain two licenses.

Eighteen other states have adopted this principle, but go only halfway, requiring applicants to obtain their license in the city or county where one of them, usually the girl candidate, resides.

Because no state can forbid its residents to cross the state line, evasions of a state's laws are possible, the statement points out, through marriages performed in some other state. Eighteen states have passed laws forbidding marriages contracted thus for evasive purposes, but such laws have proved very difficult of enforcement.

Divorce laws and marriage laws cross currents in the provisions which forbid a marriage too soon after divorce, or before divorce decrees have been made final, or when the prospective bride or bridegroom has been divorced because guilty of adultery. Such provisions are stated to be in force at present in all states except in Arkansas, Connecticut, the District of Columbia, Illinois, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Ohio, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Turkish Women Pass Men Learning ABC's

Constantinople.—Turkish women are outclassing men in the race to learn the new Latinized ABC's which President Kemal has ordered all his citizens between the ages of sixteen and forty to acquaint themselves with before June. In the 2,107 ABC schools which the government has opened in this city alone since January 1, the number of women students has risen to 68,438 against 30,442 men pupils.

Blessings Unlawful

Generally speaking, blasphemy is the expression of defiant impiety and irreverence against God or things held sacred. In United States law, it is an indictable offense, which consists of wantonly and maliciously setting God and the Christian religion.

Old East Indian Game

Redoubt, a game played with wooden and shell-topped, was introduced into England from India. Each shell-topped has 16 goose feathers from 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 inches long, and it weighs from 73 to 85 grains. The racket weighs, as a rule, about six ounces.

Fishing by Electricity

Electricity is used to catch fish in parts of Germany. One copper cable is laid at the bottom of the water to be fished, and the other held near the surface by floats. An electric current passes through the cables, and all the fish in their neighborhood are painfully electrocuted.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified crocodile that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

"I light a Lucky and stay slender—"

Hope Hampton.
Hope Hampton, Famous Star of the Opera, Stage and Screen.

"Luckies have helped me win the laurel crown of my musical career—singing in opera. Stage presence demands a slim, youthful figure. Rich foods cannot tempt me. I light a Lucky and stay slender. The toasted flavor of a Lucky soothes the craving for goodies. Then, too, a Lucky never irritates my throat. Even, after smoking many, my voice is still clear."

HOPE HAMPTON

The modern common sense way—reach for a Lucky instead of a fattening sweet. Everyone is doing it—men keep healthy and fit, women retain a trim figure. Lucky Strike, the finest tobaccos, skillfully blended, then toasted to develop a flavor which is a delightful alternative for that craving for fattening sweets.

Toasting frees Lucky Strike from impurities. 20,679 physicians recognize this when they say Luckies are less irritating than other cigarettes. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other cigarettes combined. This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

Vegetables for Health

They play such an important part in the diet, these green nourishing gifts of Mother Earth. So full of vitamins and minerals are vegetables, that they are included in every menu which strives for healthful living.

Doctors recommend cooked vegetables for infants, growing children thrive on fresh, green produce, and at least two vegetables a day are advised for grown-ups. So in vegetables there is health for every member of the family—from the youngest to the oldest.

There are so many delicious ways of preparing vegetables that they can never become monotonous in the daily fare. There are correct ways of cooking them, too, so that all the food values and flavors are retained.

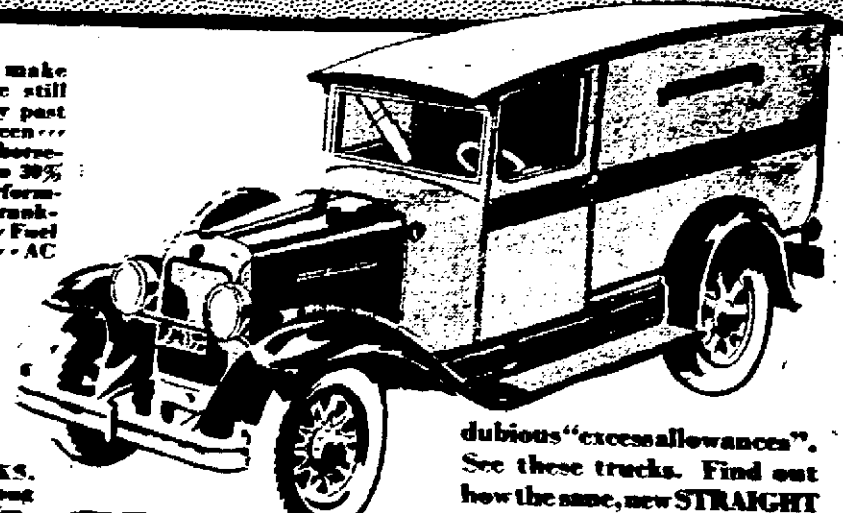

During the week of March 4, the home service directors will demonstrate the cooking of vegetables in the home service classes throughout the territory. From your local office you can learn the exact time of the class held in your community. Plan to attend.

Business Girls Held Pirate Night

Wednesday night was pirate night at the N. W. C. A. and was truly a gay and festive occasion. ## Gas Pressed Against Heart, Causing Pain And Distress, He Says

Kidneys and Nerves Were Weakened; Stomach Out of Order—Tells How Nu-Erb Helped Him.

The great herbal remedy, Dr. French's Nu-Erb is growing daily in demand because of its certain action on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Its pure herbal juices tone and regulate these vital organs and drive poisonous waste matter from the system, which is so often the cause of rheumatism and neuritis. As a blood purifier there seems to be nothing to equal this splendid herbal medicine and being made from nature's own herbs, roots and barks it is perfectly safe for anyone to take.

"It is the only medicine that has ever helped my stomach, kidneys and nervous troubles," said Mr. Edmund Kierstedt, who is well known Port Jervis farmer.

"I'd get such distressing attacks of indigestion that the gas pressed up against my heart causing me so much pain and distress that at times I could hardly breathe. I'd also get severe attacks of heartburn from which I could seem to get no relief. I had a dull, aching pain across my back all the time and my kidneys disturbed me several times each night. I became extremely nervous, couldn't sleep at night and felt tired and worn out all the time."

"Since using Nu-Erb, however, this has all been changed. I can eat just anything I want and have no trouble with gas or indigestion. I have entirely done away with the heartburn, backache and my kidneys have improved so that I sleep soundly all night long. Nu-Erb has also strengthened my nerves and that tired worn out feeling has entirely disappeared. I can honestly recommend this medicine to anybody who is suffering from similar troubles."

Mellike Drug Store, 312 Wall St., is headquarters in Kingston for Nu-Erb. Go see the Nu-Erb man now making his headquarters there and let him explain to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.

Wales New Magnet In The Royal Court Invitation Scramble

Now that the Prince of Wales may act for his father at the spring court in Buckingham palace, the spurring for invitations, always keen, is more brisk than ever.

London, (AP)—The anxious maneuvering for invitations to the spring court at Buckingham palace is expected to become a frantic stampede now that there is a serious possibility the Prince of Wales will act for the king.

The large gilt cards bearing the engraved message, "The lord chamberlain is commanded to invite you to Buckingham palace," always have exercised a mesmeric power over the debutantes of the world, but this will be the first time that his royal highness has been cast in so important a role.

Queen Mary's announcement that the courts would be held caused general rejoicing among the debutantes expecting presentation by their ambassadors. It was thought for a time that King George's illness and his possible absence from London would cause a postponement. Now the queen has declared the prince will assist her if the king is unable to be present.

The royal courts, which are held in Buckingham palace each year, are considered the most formal affairs of the British social world. Young women are presented by sponsors from the ranks of older women who have been presented in the past. Those from other countries are escorted by their ambassadors. Many more applications always are filed with the embassies than can be accommodated, but an even larger number is expected this year.

The ceremony itself is brief. The king and queen enter the throne room after their approach is heralded by a blast of trumpets. Near the throne chairs stand the officers of the household and members of the royal family. The debutante is announced at the door. She crosses the floor, makes a deep courtesy before the king and queen and retires to a smaller room. Her costume complies with court rules, embodying a train, long gloves, feather fan and head dress.

The principal significance of a presentation is that the debutante's name is set down officially on society's invitation lists of the year. And with the Prince of Wales taking one's how in person there would be an added glamour.

PLATTEKILL
Plattekill, Feb. 28.—Local Grangers have been making preparations to attend the Pomona Grange meeting at the hall at Plattekill during this week.

A number of Plattekill people attended the interstate ski jumping tournament held at Bear Mountain Sunday afternoon, February 24, when Alfred Olsen, of the Swedish Ski Club, won the record jump of 105 feet. Lars Olson, representing the same club, won the cross-country race. The latter retained permanent possession of the Swedish Ski Club challenge trophy when he scored his third successive victory in the eleven mile cross-country race. Much interest is evidenced in this athletic sport, held under ideal weather conditions. The jump was scheduled for last Sunday but the temperature of the weather necessitated a postponement with satisfactory results. A ski jump which attracted much interest was held at Norwemen's Hill at Salisbury Mills, where Henry Jerquist made a record leap of 152 feet, the greatest jump ever accomplished on the new chute. A novel stunt was introduced at this performance, however, which gained much applause. "Rebecca Goldberg of Florida," in reality a member of the Ski Club, dressed in a womanly costume of other days, attempted to jump but was not a clever or successful jumper. A tiny parasol held aloft in "her" hand was wafted skyward, perhaps by the air of jollity her act inspired.

At a recent meeting of the Sunshine Circle of the Plattekill Methodist Church, plans were made for a play to be presented, and the date set for the annual circle fair to be held at the church November 21.

The Busy Bee Society of the Roseville Church, of which the Rev. Taylor is pastor, held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Elvin Pressler, when a committee was appointed to act on preparations for a supper to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lorier at Savillon, N. Y., early in March.

Emil Hostizer, a former resident of this place, now stationed on the police force at West Shore station at Newburgh, is severely ill at his home at Savillon with intestinal grip.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Thorne and family of Orange Lake were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Green Hedges.

Mr. and Mrs. George Martin and son were Plattekill visitors Sunday. Philip Smullen of New York City visited his family in this place last week.

Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Wager spent Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Pressler at Newburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carpenter entertained callers at their home Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Neuwirth entertained friends from Balmville, N. Y., at their home Sunday.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

CHANEL'S SPONSORSHIP OF LACE
REVIVES INTEREST IN IT FOR EVENING

New York—The lace dress refuses to be ignored by fashionable folk. It has taken a fresh lease on life since Chanel's opening for in the Paris salons of this distinguished creator, lace was used lavishly and in brilliant colors as has been her custom. Green remains the color par excellence. Chanel even daring brilliant green sequin gowns. A decade or so ago most women felt the urge for a spangled gown, but it was usually black. After a bit they became slightly de-classe and were dropped. A season or more ago spangles began to appear. Chanel used them for little square and triangular evening scarfs, after which they grew into cocktail jackets and in the next evolution entire frocks made on the lines of lace ones, frequently molded and often princess. The spangled gown is nothing if not spectacular and should be avoided by any woman who cannot contrive a number of evening dresses. A lace dress, on the contrary, is an excellent choice if one may have but one dress, although in that case it would be better to eschew brilliant colors. Jewel tinted laces, including carnation, are both practical and pretty. Since tiered and ruffled skirts have again become the fashion, lace flouncings find themselves in greater favor than all-over laces, and so it has come about that chintilly, and the finer laces have been reinstated. Tulle remains on the dance programme as do chiffons, although chiffon has taken upon itself to ape organdie, and to this end has permitted itself to be starched or otherwise stiffened. Tulle has replaced chiffons and crepes for lining such frocks.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Stylish Design for a Matronly Figure with Slender Hips.

6365. Moire rayon, was employed for this attractive model. Grepe satin is also very desirable, with the dull side out, and the satin surface used for seam pipings and for the cuffs or alternating on the waist and yoke portions. The new vogue of many pieces is expressed in this design. The waist front is formed of three shaped sections, curved from right to left. The skirt is mounted on a yoke with curved lower edges, and forms a pleasing dip at the left side.

The pattern for this distinctive style is cut in 8 sizes: 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52 inches bust measure. To make a 48 inch size will require 4 1/2 yards of 39 inch material. For a finish of bias binding as illustrated in the large view, 5 1/2 yards is required. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fullness extended is 1 1/2 yard.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, Feb. 28.—The many friends of Mrs. Charles Henley regret that she is not feeling well.

Tilden Bell and Elwyn Davis were among the purchasers of farm equipment at Ruckert's auction. Henry Lamoree of West Saugerties was a buyer of many household furnishings. Friends of Garret Mott, one of the local summer residents of Brooklyn, will be pleased to learn that following his operation his health is showing marked improvement and he has taken on several pounds in weight. Jacob DeLamarter, and aged resident of Cottekill who died on Friday last, was a former resident of the town of Olive. He married a sister of Gordon Eckert who for many years has resided near Tugore. The funeral was held at his late residence on Sunday afternoon, the interment being in Marbletown cemetery.

It is said that the first settler in what is known as Coons' neighborhood at Shokan Heights, was John Coons, who was the grandfather of the late Henry Coons who died some years ago. John Coons was born in the last decade of the eighteenth century and marrying at an early age purchased ten acres at 25 cents per acre in what was at that time a region covered with a virgin growth of hemlock, chestnut and oak timber. He cleared a space and erected a log house and barn. The tradition is that the trees grew so large that when he started chopping at daybreak, that the evening shadows would lengthen before the moon-arch fell to the ground, and that two days' time was required for the young wife to pick up the chips. From this small beginning was gradually acquired the several hundred acres of cleared and timberlands now within the boundaries of this estate which was recently sold by Leonard Ruckert, who purchased the property from the Coons estate several years ago. The bodies of these sturdy pioneers and their descendants rest in the family burying ground overlooking the site of the first humble home in the wilderness.

Sunday, February 24, was the 68th milestone in life reached by Homer Marble of Shokan and the well wishes of his friends and that he may yet celebrate many more birthdays. Mr. Marble is a brother of Mrs. Shepard Bell of the West Shokan Inn. Approximately 240 attended the auction at the Ruckert farm, formerly the Henry Coons property. Monday, when farm machinery, harness, sleighs and stock were disposed of, John Kelder started the auction at 10:30 a. m. and at noon a recess was taken for lunch. A hot dinner was served to those who wished it, while others enjoyed light lunches. As it was impossible to dispose of all the goods during the afternoon it was decided to continue the sale on Tuesday.

The auto accident case between Mrs. Erickson and Robert York which was to have come up for trial Monday at Winchell's Hall, has been put over until March 15.

Virgil Gordon and family of Brodhead were recent Kingston visitors.

STOP THE FAT AND GET THIN

The way to reduction is to stop the formation of fat. Modern science has found that way—by turning your food into fuel and energy—by supplying a natural element that helps do this. It is much better than starvation. That modern scientific method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. Now the results in slender figures, new beauty and vitality, are seen everywhere.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for its use. So you know the effects are beneficial, and why they all occur. Learn what so many have learned in 20 years about it. Do it now. Ask your druggist for a 51 box of Marmola and learn what it means to you.

W. C. T. U. Issues Death Statistics

New York, Feb. 28 (A.P.)—The Women's Christian Temperance Union issued statistics today showing that the death rate from alcoholism in the United States for 1927 was forty in 1,000,000 of population as compared with one in 1,000,000 in 1920.

The announcement said this increase was due to the refusal to accept the benefits of the prohibition law, and advocated a vigorous educational campaign, especially for young people.

Meat Not Exclusive Food of Red Indians

Among all the American Indians there were no pure hunter tribes. In the north portion of the continent the diet was three-fourths animal food. In the southern part it was three-fourths vegetable, and with the tribes of the coast, mountains, lakes and plains it varied according to the food supply. As a rule the Indian women were cooks of considerable ingenuity and contrary to popular belief the Indians preferred cooked food. They were good at husbandry and after drying their vegetables they sometimes built granaries wherein to store them. Animal food was often dried or frozen, but sometimes was smoked. Fruits were pulped or dried. Nuts were often ground before being stored, as were also maize, grass seeds and the legumes. Potatoes and squashes frequently were stored in holes dug beneath the frost line. The Indians liked salt to flavor their dishes and obtained it sometimes by evaporating the water from salt springs and sometimes by taking the crystals from salt lakes and caves. Many of them were fond of chewing gum, which they got from spruce trees. Savors, flavors and condiments were valued highly. Detroit News.

The affable salesman in New York book stores are seldom surprised at any request—the public demand being what it is. But one of them reports that the other day he had a request from a dignified little old lady that—to use his own words—"knocked him for a row of bookshelves."

"I want a book—any kind of a book—with a jacket that is green, with red in it," the little old lady said. She insisted it could be a cook book or one about the home life of the bee or South pole explorations—anything as long as its jacket was the color scheme she described.

"She wanted it," the salesman explained. "To match the decoration of her new reading lamp. Can you beat it?"

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 28 (P).—Ten percent call money, making its second appearance on the New York Stock Exchange this month, checked a promising rally in prices today. Thirty issues were marked up to new high records, a few high-priced specialties soaring 5 to 20 points above last night's closing quotations before the selling movement started around midday, trading on the reaction.
Call money renewed at 5, advanced to 5 and then to 10 as banks called loans in preparation for month-end settlements and to strengthen their positions at the Federal Reserve Bank. Loanable funds were scarce, even at the 10 percent level and there was a possibility that the rate might be advanced to 12 before the close.
While the unusually high call money rate was a disappointment to Wall Street traders, a considerable encouragement from the retention of the 5 1/2 percent rediscount rate by the Bank of England, and the reply of the Federal Reserve Board to the Mellon resolution that no remedial legislation was necessary at present on the brokers' loan situation.

Wall Street seems satisfied that no increase in the New York Federal Reserve Bank rediscount rate is likely until after the treasury's March 15 financing is out of the way, although an increase in loans in the weekly statement to be issued after the close would not be surprising.
The day's trade and business news again had a distinctly bullish tinge. Copper prices were advanced another 1/2 cent a pound, making an increase of 1 1/2 cents this week, and the Greene Cananea and Inspiration Copper Companies increased their annual dividends. A long series of 1928 earnings reports were published, most of which made excellent comparison with the year before.
Adams Express was the spectacular individual feature, soaring 50 1/2 points to a new high record at 550, which contrasts with the year's low of 389. National Tea (old stock) jumped 15 points, American Railway Express 13 to a new high record at 160, and American Express 11 to a new peak at 319.
Commercial Solvents, Commercial Investment Trust, International Telephone, Goodyear Rubber, Wright Aeronautical and Curtiss sold 5 to 6 points higher.

Greene Plans New Capitol Facade

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP).—Newlywed and daily gown devotees will be the only persons to miss the massive stone staircase that now is the front entrance to the Capitol. Colonel Frederick Stuart Greene believes, and he has drawn up plans for a new facade.

No other important building in the United States has to be entered from the side, the state superintendent of public works last night told guests at the ceremony dedicating the new flag room in the Capitol, adding that the long flight of stairs is used only by persons wishing to reduce and to brides and bridegrooms who want their picture taken on the imposing steps and balustrades.

The whole stonework forming this staircase has become detached from the rest of the building and is slowly sliding down State street hill. Colonel Greene said.

The new facade will open onto the flag room on the second floor.

Faith to Her "Folks"

Old "Mammy's" Passion

Unswerving faith to her "white folks" was an outstanding characteristic of the old-time "mammy." The instances are many where even after her emancipation she remained with the family to which she had belonged to succeeding generations. She not only waited on "Old Miss" during life and closed her eyes when she fell asleep in death, but she was present at the birth of all the children and helped to rear them, and mayhap to perform the same office for the grandchildren and great-grandchildren. When "Young Miss" was married "mammy" usually exercised her prerogative of being the first to kiss the bride and "mammy's" osculatory evidence not only was sincere and genuine, but it was regarded as good luck.

Often "mammy's" own "white folks" became financially embarrassed and lost everything, but "mammy" did not desert them. On the other hand, she invariably stuck to them through thick and thin and was willing to share any reverses to which they might be subjected. Hers was a devotion that was strong and lasting.

Her "white folks" might forgive an enemy, but "mammy" never forgot or forgave one who wronged any of her people. Often she took the family name with which she was so long identified and in death many of the old-time "black mummies" sleep in the family burial plot in a grave reserved for them. In many graveyards the epitaph on her tombstone bears witness to the fidelity of some negro "mammy."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Little Change in Scales

There is little or no difference between the scales used today and those used in the days of ancient Egypt. Judging by an exhibition in the Science museum, South Kensington, London, recently. Illustrating the history of weighing as far back as is known, a steelyard used by a Roman butcher identical with one of the present day was on show. Modern scales of nickel and enamel, with multi-colored dials on which the weight can be read in an instant, stood side by side with models showing that centuries ago Leonardo da Vinci designed a self-indicating machine on exactly the same principle.

His Own Shock Absorber

The Louisville Times mentions another advantage a fat man has over a lean one. When a revolving door through which a fat man is passing stops suddenly, it can't hit him in the face.—Capper's Weekly.

Huge Icebergs Block Bosphorous

Constantinople, Feb. 28 (AP).—For the first time in more than a hundred years the mouth of the Bosphorus is almost impassable because of icebergs and icefloes which have drifted down from the Black Sea. Vessels arriving from the Black Sea report that many icebergs are drifting southward. One floe was said to be seven miles long. The sudden springlike warmth which has come to Constantinople after the terrible cold of the past two weeks is expected to melt them shortly.
